CLOSER LOOK Breeders Cup Classic winner will move outside for another challenge from a handful of the guys he defeated handily at Del Mar; his campaign last year was nearly flawless and he did avenge his lone defeat by Arrogate last time out; much has been made of the post draw and his tactics will face question from out here as this has not been a very successful starting spot here; expect he will lose some ground and while that won't help him, he has proven that he doesn't need the lead to fire a big shot; concern is just how much ground he does lose going into the first turn; 4-5 morning line price from here may be a little tough to swallow for some, but he is very good and you know his connections have him ready to lay it all on the line in his final start.

1 REGENCY

A horse racing at regular and consistent intervals is probably fit. A horse that's been away for a while may have been sick or unsound. Be wary of betting these horses, as they could need a few races to get into top shape. The layoff lines in Daily Racing Form make it easy to spot a horse that's had more than 45 days between starts. Check the workouts at the bottom of the past performances. If the horse has been working out regularly, he may already be fit, especially if he shows some "bullet" workouts and comes from a top trainer. Also note a horse's prior performances after a layoff line. Horses often show a tendency to run well or poorly off a layoff.

2 BEYER SPEED FIGURES

Daily Racing Form's exclusive Beyer Speed Figures are perhaps the most powerful tool in helping you select a winner. They measure how fast a horse runs, taking into account how fast the surface was on a given day. Beyer Figures allow the comparison of one horse's performance to another, regardless if they ran in different races, at different tracks, and even at different distances or on different surfaces. The Beyer scale runs from -0 (slowest) to approximately 125.

3 JOCKEY/TRAINER

Whether it's the top rider in the country or at your local track, the statistics in the past performances give you a better picture of the ability of each rider. Current meet and year-to-date statistics follow the name of each jockey and trainer. Favor horses with jockeys that have been winning with at least 10 percent to 15 percent of their mounts. Rider changes can provide insight on how a jockey sees a race. When a successful jockey has been riding two or more of the horses in the same race, he usually rides the horse he feels has the best chance to win.

Trainers are like coaches. Once they establish a winning record, they usually have an edge in recruiting the most highly sought-after talent. And just like horses, trainers often have hot streaks. Most dependable trainers will fall somewhere in the 10 percent to 20 percent win range. As a general rule, avoid trainers who are winning at less than 10 percent. These days, it's not uncommon to see top trainers winning 30 percent of their races or more. Give extra special attention to horses trained by these conditioners.

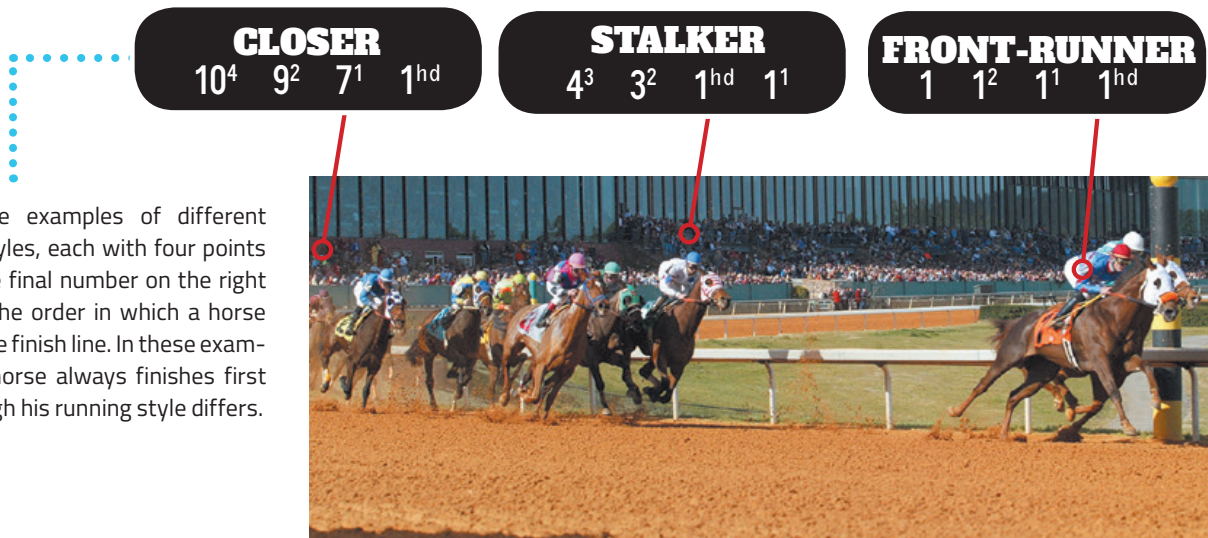

4 CAREER RECORD

The career box, in the upper right corner of the past performances, gives you the lowdown on the horse's lifetime accomplishments. For example, Gun Runner has raced 19 times total, winning 12 of those races, running second 3 times and third 2 times. His career earnings total $15,988,500. His lifetime best Beyer Speed Figure is 119. The career box also gives you information on a horse's record at the current track and distance he races at today, on a wet surface, and on turf. Some horses prefer certain distances, and others excel at certain racetracks. Compare these statistics to the rest of the field to help find the potential winner.

TIP Check if your horse likes the track surface he will be racing on. Some horses prefer certain tracks, while other horses are adaptable and can win wherever they compete.

5 RUNNING STYLE

Most horses develop a preferred running style. Gun Runner would be considered a “front-runner.” He likes to run on the lead or within a few lengths of the lead. Assessing horses’ running styles is key to handicapping a race. If there is only one horse that likes to race on or near the early lead he can often get away with an easy lead and have plenty of energy for the stretch run. If there are many horses with early speed, they can establish a fast pace and tire late, setting it up for a closer.

Here are examples of different running styles, each with four points of call. The final number on the right indicates the order in which a horse reaches the finish line. In these examples, the horse always finishes first even though his running style differs.

6 WHERE DID HE FINISH LAST TIME?

Each horse’s running lines tell you how a horse performed in his prior races. The first numbers are a horse’s post position and the number of runners in that race. Then, there are several numbers indicating where a horse was positioned at various points in his previous race, usually in quarter-mile increments depending on the race distance. The next-to-last position is always the stretch call, charted at one-eighth of a mile from the finish. Finally, the last number in the running line tells you where he finished. In Gun Runner’s case, he finished first in his last race. The superscript numbers tell you how far back in horse-lengths (approximately 8-9 feet) a horse was from the leader at that particular call, if he was trailing, or by how many lengths he was leading.

7 CLOSER LOOKS

DRF’s expert handicappers analyze races and share their insights in the Closer Look section of the past performances. The Closer Look is there to help you digest the data and construct your wager. This exclusive pre-race analysis highlights horses and angles to help you learn the art of handicapping and picking winners. Closer Looks are particularly helpful in races with first-time starters, when detailed pedigree information is included. Closer Looks are only available as part of DRF past performances.

LEVELS OF COMPETITION

MAIDEN RACE

A race exclusively for horses that have never won a race.

CLAIMING RACE

The most common of all races, stipulating a price (such as $25,000) for which any horse in the race may be purchased. In essence, the owners put their horses up for sale, knowing the horses may be claimed (bought) prior to the running of the race. When the starting gate springs open, a claimed horse becomes the property of the new owner, although any purse money earned in that race goes to the previous owner. Different claiming prices provide a point of reference to different class levels.

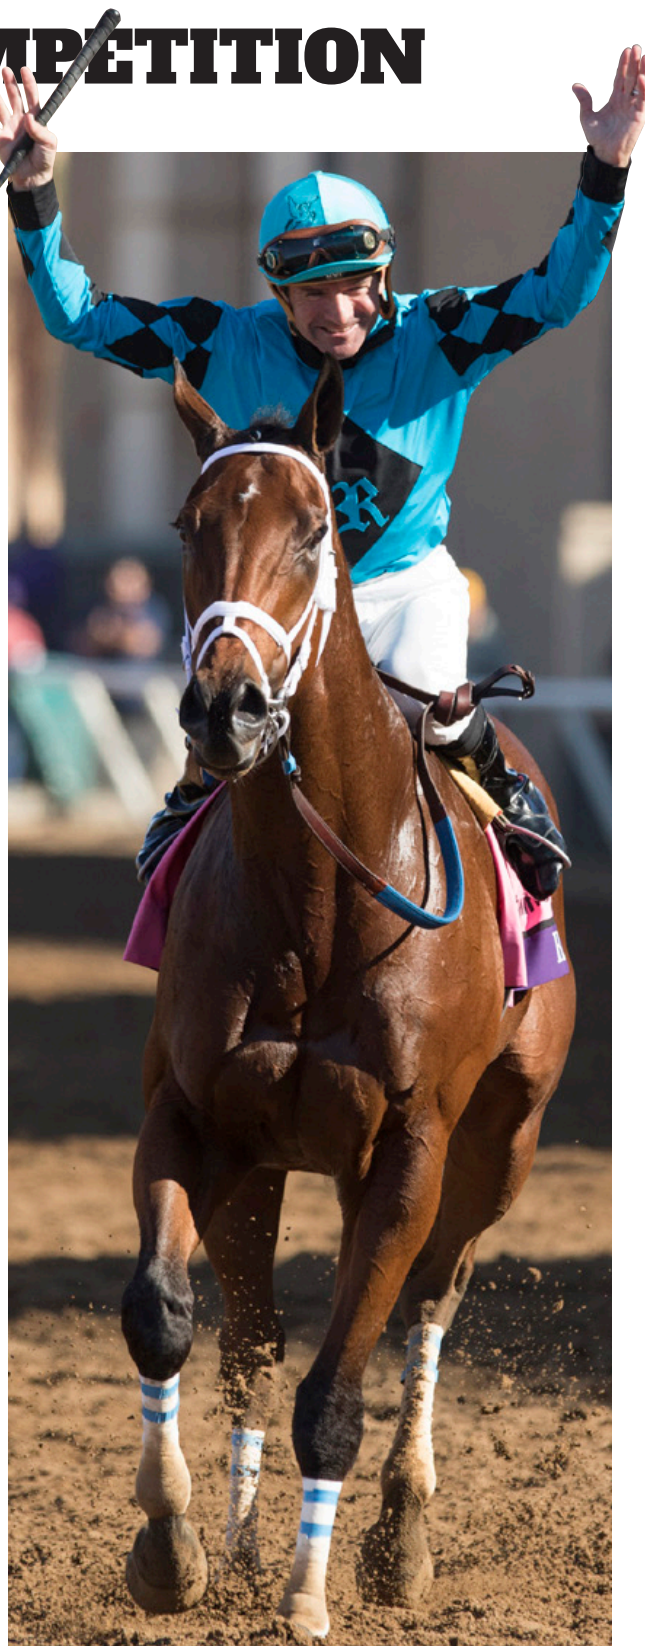

ALLOWANCE RACE

One step above lower-level claiming races, the conditions of eligibility are very similar except that the horses are not for sale. Allowance horses are often being prepared to compete in stakes events but are eligible for these “conditioned” races.

STAKES/HANDICAP RACE

The highest class of race reserved for the best horses. Derived from the word “sweepstakes,” and along with handicap races applies to the highest caliber of race offered. Owners typically pay an entry fee to nominate, enter, and run their horses. Handicap and stakes races offer the largest purses of all the various types of races.

Handicap Race: A race for which weights have been assigned by the racing secretary after evaluating entrants’ past performances. The idea is to burden the horses with the best records, and therefore improve the chances of the less-accomplished horses in the field.

TYPES OF WAGERS

STRAIGHT

These wagers are the simplest form of wagering and involve terms you may have already heard: win, place, and show. Win bets offer just one chance to win. Place bets provide two chances, since your horse can finish first or second; and show bets give you three chances. However, if your horse finishes first, the payoff for a win bet is almost always bigger than a show or place bet.

Win

Your horse must win.

Place

Your horse must finish first or second.

Show

Your horse must finish first, second, or third.

Across the Board

Separate win, place, and show wagers of equal amounts on the same horse

2-HORSE

Tracks offer many bets besides standard win, place, and show wagers. Any of these multiple-race or multiple-horse bets are called “exotics,” and their payoffs can be much higher.

Exacta

Pick the first two finishers in the correct order.

Quinella

Pick the first two finishers in either order.

Double

Pick the winners of two consecutive races.

EXOTICS

As the saying goes, the greater the risk, the greater the reward! If you have a strong opinion on multiple horses in a race, you are in the position to make more money. DRF's TicketMaker tool becomes even more valuable to help you easily recognize and remove unprofitable bets. Visit drfticketmaker.com today!

Trifecta

Pick the first three finishers in the correct order

Superfecta

Pick the first four finishers in the correct order

Pick 3

Pick the winners of three consecutive races

Pick 4

Pick the winners of four consecutive races

Pick 5

Pick the winners of five consecutive races

Pick 6

Pick the winners of six consecutive races

ODDS

The tote board provides the current odds for each horse, but how much you will win is determined by how much you wager. The following chart shows the payoffs for a $2 win ticket. ($2 is the standard wager for all win, place and show bets.) A $20 win ticket would then payout 10 times the amounts listed.

CLOSER LOOK Breeders Cup Classic winner will move outside for another challenge from a handful of the guys he defeated handily at Del Mar; his campaign last year was nearly flawless and he did avenge his lone defeat by Arrogate last time out; much has been made of the post draw and his tactics will face question from out here as this has not been a very successful starting spot here; expect he will lose some ground and while that won't help him, he has proven that he doesn't need the lead to fire a big shot; concern is just how much ground he does lose going into the first turn; 4-5 morning line price from here may be a little tough to swallow for some, but he is very good and you know his connections have him ready to lay it all on the line in his final start.

BEYER SPEED FIGURES DRF Exclusive

Every performance by every horse in North America is assigned a Beyer Speed Figure that reflects the time of the race and the inherent speed of the track over which it was run, permitting easy comparisons of efforts by disparate classes at different distances and tracks. In this system, 2 1/2 points are roughly equal to one length in sprints and just less than 2 points is equal to one length in routes.

BEYER SCALE

- 120+ Exceptional—a mark achieved by the most elite horses
115 The best horses in the country
100 A stakes horse or high-level allowance horse
90 A $30,000-40,000 claiming horse or an allowance runner
80 A typical $10,000 claiming race
57 Bottom-level $2,500 claiming horse

TIMEFORMUS EARLY/LATE RATINGS DRF Exclusive

TimeformUS Early and Late Ratings measure a horse's speed and running style, providing an instant measurement of where a horse is likely to be positioned early in a race and that horse's late kick.

These ratings are on the Timeform global scale, utilized by TimeformUS in its speed and pace figures. The Timeform global scale is displayed for some foreign runners in DRF PPs. Typically, the Timeform global scale runs about 15-20 points higher than Beyer Speed Figures.

RACE SHAPE SYMBOL DRF Exclusive

- Quickly identify race flows that favored a specific running style
- Easily find horses that may be better/worse than their PPs indicate

- C - Favored CLOSERS
C - Extremely favored CLOSERS
S - Favored SPEEDS
S - Extremely favored SPEEDS

TOMLINSON RATINGS DRF Exclusive

Daily Racing Form past performances contain a special set of ratings called Tomlinson Ratings. These ratings appear in the career box above each horse's past performances. These three separate ratings (from 0 to 480) are based on a horse's breeding and its likely aptitude for wet tracks, the turf, and compatibility with today's scheduled race distance. Distance ratings reflect all performances, regardless of whether races are run on dirt, turf, or synthetic surfaces.

A wet rating of 320+ is a horse that merits further consideration on a muddy or sloppy track. The distance ratings, with a rating of 320 considered average, might prove especially useful when handicapping horses who may be better suited for sprints, middle distances, or route races.

Tomlinson Ratings are especially useful in maiden races, 2-year-old races, races switched to a main track listed as sloppy or muddy, horses trying mud, slop, or turf for the first or second time, or horses stretching out in distance.

TRAINER FORM

Comprehensive Trainer Form statistics: There are 36 trainer statistics that DRF tracks, covering every trainer's record over this year and last year in a variety of situations. As many as six of these categories will show up under the bottom PPs, depending on the number of applicable statistics. Each trainer stat will list:

- the number of starts for the winning trainer in this category
- the win percentage for the trainer in this category
- and the $2 return on investment for the trainer in this category

RACING LINGO

ACROSS THE BOARD A bet on a horse to win, place, and show. If the horse wins, the player collects three ways; if second, two ways; and if third, one way, losing the win and place bets.

ALSO-ELIGIBLE A horse officially entered, but not permitted to start unless the field is reduced by scratches below a specified number.

ALSO-RAN A horse who finishes out of the money.

APPRENTICE A novice jockey who has not yet ridden for a full year past his or her 35th birthday, or some other time frame specified by a given state's racing rules. While jockeys serve their apprenticeship, they are accorded a 5-to 10-pound weight allowance, or reduction from their respective weight assignments in all races except stakes. The slang term for an apprentice allowance or rider is "bug boy." The term comes from the asterisk that usually accompanies an apprentice rider's name in the entries.

BACKSTRETCH The straight area of the track between the turns. Also, the stable area.

BANDAGE Strips of cloth wound around the lower part of a horse's legs for support or protection against injury.

BAR SHOE A horse shoe with a rear bar to protect an injured foot; bar shoes may be worn with aluminum pads to protect a bruised frog, or may be worn alone.

BLANKET FINISH Horses finishing so closely together they could be "covered by a blanket."

BOX If you have two or more horses that you think will finish in the top spots, but you are not sure of the order, you can box them. Example: An exacta box on horses #3 and #6. You win if #3 wins and #6 places OR #6 wins and #3 places. The same method can be applied to boxing a trifecta or a superfecta.

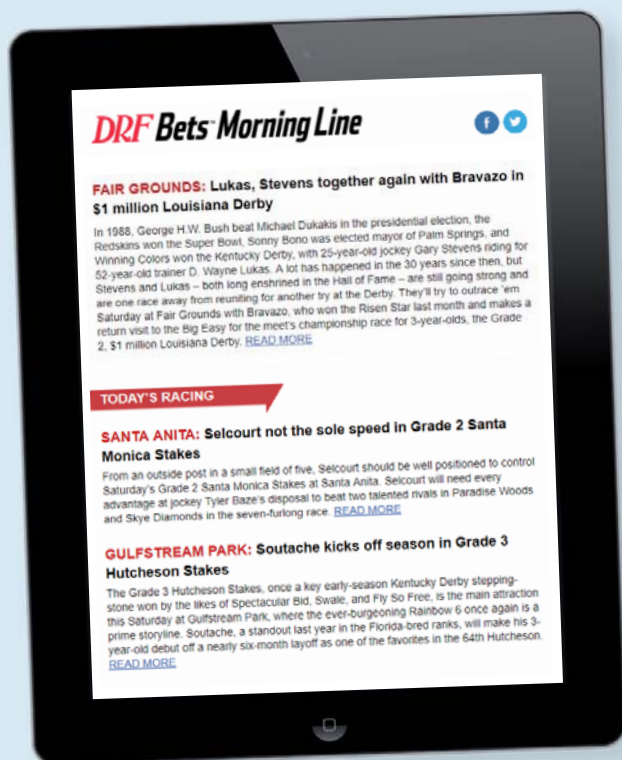

BUG A weight allowance for an apprentice rider.
